

Alligators!

Alligators are reptiles. They are cold blooded animals. They live in the Southeastern United States in swamps, marshes, lakes, and rivers.

Alligators are carnivores. They eat fish, turtles, mammals, and birds. They can grow up to 20 feet long.

Alligators have a powerful jaw and sharp teeth to catch their prey.

Alligator eggs become male or female depending on the temperature.